Default search mode

The screenshot shows the IDS SEARCH interface. At the top, there is a search bar with the text 'darwin' and a dropdown menu set to 'all'. A yellow box highlights the 'Keyword' dropdown menu. To the right of the search bar is a 'Search' button. The IDS SEARCH logo is visible in the top right corner. Below the search bar, there is a link to 'Show Advanced Search' and a link to 'New Search'. The search results are displayed for 'Keyword (all) darwin. [Milne Library]'. A yellow box highlights the 'relevance' dropdown menu in the top right corner of the results area. The results show 'Results 1 - 5 of 487'. On the left, there is a 'Change libraries:' section with two options: 'Milne Library (487)' (selected) and 'Quick delivery libraries (4 255)'. The main result is 'Darwin by Desmond, Adrian J.' with a note 'No available items Upper Level. QH31.D2 D47 1992. 0. 07/08/11. General Collection.' and pagination links '1 2 3 4 5 Next Last'.

- Default index: keyword
- Default sort: relevance
- Both defaults can be changed
  - By setting new, local defaults
  - By the user on-the-fly

SUMMARY: "A guide to the strange and often illogical world of neural function, 'The accidental mind' shows how the brain is not an optimized, general-purpose problem-solving machine, but rather an agglomeration of ad-hoc solutions that have been piled on through millions of years of evolution. Moreover Linden tells us how the constraints of evolved brain design have ultimately limited the transcendent human foible : our long childhoods, our extensive memory capacity, our long-term relationships, our need to create compelling narrative, and ultimately, the human impulse to create both religious and scientific explanations.
